The Stars of Baby Week are Tomorrow's Citizens!

Let's Build Our Town For Our Own Prosperity and For the Security of the Citizens of Tomorrow.

Many former residents who return to Appomattox after the absence of a few years, marvel at how the Town has grown. They see the new homes, new stores and businesses and know that somebody has been doing a lot of work and there must be a solid econmy making this growth possible.

But the same thing is happening pretty much all over the nation. We live in era of rapid expansion of business and fabulous home-building.

One thing that makes for a solid foundation under the growth of a community is the willingness of its citizens to favor home-town business with trade. Every dollar that stays at home where it is earned, does service in the upbuilding of the life of the community. Community organizations, churches and schools, all depend upon the amount of money that is available for their support, to a large measure. There are other factors, but by and large you build a solid local economy by supporting local enterprise.

Appomattox is well aware of this fact, and local business wants your trade. And to merit your trade, local business has to be on the job to give you service and meet competition. The businesses bringing this message to you seek to merit your trade. We are your friends. We try to understand your problems and needs. We want Appomattox to be a complete town, so you will not have to look elsewhere for your needs. We try to win regular customers, not just make sales. So, talk over your problems with us. Let us show you how it is to your advantage to try Appomattox First!

The more volume of business that is done in Appomattox the more secure will be the economy of the community, the safer the job opportunities offered, and the stronger will be our contribution to the national welfare. We appreciate the vital role you play in making Appomattox "a growing town."

The citizens of tomorrow will inherit a better community if we bear in mind that today we are building the kind of community in which they will live.
